- I. (U) Overview.
- (U) (XMNK) This application seeks renewed authority to conduct electronic surveillance and physical search of Carter Page. The FBI believes that Page has been the subject of targeted recruitment by the Russian Government for a number of years and currently is acting as an unregistered agent of the Russian Government.

 (U) Page is a former foreign policy advisor to a Candidate for U.S.

 President (Candidate #1). As discussed in greater detail below, the FBI believes that the Russian Government engaged in efforts to undermine and influence the outcome of the 2016 U.S. Presidential election. Although the election has concluded, for the reasons described below, the FBI believes that the Russian Government will continue attempting to use U.S.-based individuals, such as Page, to covertly influence U.S. foreign policy and to support the Russian Government's perception management efforts in violation of U.S. criminal law. The FBI expects that the collection requested herein will continue to produce foreign intelligence information that will assist the FBI in more fully understanding the capabilities, activities, plans, addition, according to an October 7, 2016 Joint Statement from the Department of Homeland Security and the Office of the Director of National Intelligence on Election Security (Election Security Joint Statement), the USIC is confident that the Russian Government directed the recent compromises of e-mails from U.S. persons and institutions, including from U.S. political organizations. The Election Security Joint Statement states that the recent disclosures of e-mails on, among others, sites like WikiLeaks are consistent with the methods and motivations of Russian-directed efforts. According to the Election Security Joint Statement, these thefts and disclosures were intended to interfere with the U.S. election process; activity that is not new to Moscow - the Russians have used similar tactics and techniques across Europe and Eurasia, for example, to influence public opinion there. The Election Security Joint Statement stated that, based on the scope and sensitivity of these efforts, only Russia's senior-most officials could have authorized these activities. More recently, on December 29, 2016, the White House issued a statement that the U.S. President had ordered a number of actions in response to the Russian Government's aggressive harassment of U.S. officials and cyber operations aimed at the U.S. election. According to this December 29th statement, the U.S. Presidential Administration publicized its assessment in October [2016] that Russia took actions intended to interfere with the U.S. election process and that these activities could only have been directed by the highest levels of the Russian Government [in context, this is likely a reference to the Election Security Joint Statement].

- (U) (SYNCE) Based on the Russian Government's historical efforts to influence U.S. and foreign elections, the information regarding Russia's role in hacking into the DNC, and the information discussed herein regarding Russia's coordination with Carter Page and others, the FBI believes that the Russian Government used an intelligence network, which consists of, among others, Russian Government officials, Russian state media, and elements of the RIS, to attempt to undermine and improperly and illegally influence the 2016 U.S. Presidential election. Now that the election is over, the FBI believes that the Russian Government will continue to use this intelligence network to engage in perception management activities against the United States that are designed to influence U.S. foreign policy as well as U.S. public opinion of Russia.
- (U) (NANK) The FBI assesses that efforts by the Russian Government to attempt to undermine and influence the 2016 U.S. Presidential election and conduct perception management activities against the United States have the effect of harming U.S. national security. As stated in the legislative history of FISA:

Russian deputy minister who is now the executive chairman of Rosneft. At their alleged meeting, Sechin raised the issue of the lifting of sanctions with Page.

According to the September 23rd News Article, the Western intelligence source also reported that U.S. intelligence agencies received reports that Page met with another top Putin aide - Igor Divyekin, a former Russian security official who now serves as deputy chief for internal policy and is believed by U.S. officials to have responsibility for intelligence collected by Russian agencies about the U.S. election.²²

⁽U) ²² (3) As discussed above, Source #1 was hired by a business associate to conduct research into Candidate #1's ties to Russia. Source #1 provided the results of his research to the business associate, and the FBI assesses that the business associate likely provided this information to the law firm that hired the business associate in the first place. Source #1 told the FBI that he/she only provided this information to the business associate and the FBI. Given that the information contained in the September 23rd News Article generally matches the information about Page that Source #1 discovered during his/her research, the FBI assesses that Source #1's business associate or the law firm that hired the business associate likely provided this information to the press. The FBI also assesses that whoever gave the information to the press stated that the information was provided by a "well-placed Western intelligence source." The FBI does not believe that Source #1 directly provided this information to the identified news organization that published the September 23rd News Article.

⁽U) (XX/XXX) In or about late October 2016, however, after the FBI Director sent a letter to the U.S. Congress, which stated that the FBI had learned of new information that might be pertinent to an investigation that the FBI was conducting of Candidate #2, Source #1 told the FBI that he/she was frustrated with this action and believed it would likely influence the 2016 U.S. Presidential election. In response to Source #1's concerns, Source #1 independently, and against the prior admonishment from the FBI to speak only with the FBI on this matter, released the reporting discussed

- (U) (SANCE) According to the September 23rd News Article, certain members of Congress were "taken aback" after being briefed on the alleged meetings between Page and Russian officials and viewed the meetings as a possible back channel to the Russians that could undercut U.S. foreign policy. The September 23rd News Article also stated that, following the briefing, the Senate Minority Leader wrote to the FBI Director, and citing the reports of meetings between an advisor to Candidate #1 [the advisor was unnamed in the letter, but the article indicated that the advisor is Page] and "high ranking sanctioned individuals" [in context, likely a reference to Sechin] in Moscow over the summer as evidence of "significant and disturbing ties" between Candidate #1's campaign and the Kremlin that needed to be investigated by the FBI.
- (U) (SWANE) Based on statements in the September 23rd News Article, as well as in other articles published by identified news organizations, Candidate #1's campaign repeatedly made public statements in an attempt to distance Candidate #1's campaign from Page. For example, the September 23rd News Article noted that Page's precise role in Candidate #1's campaign is unclear. According to the article, a spokesperson for Candidate #1's campaign called Page an "informal foreign advisor" who "does not speak for [Candidate #1] or the campaign." In addition, another spokesperson for Candidate #1's campaign said that Page "has no role" and added "[w]e are not aware of any of his activities, past or present." However, the article stated that the campaign spokesperson did not respond when asked why Candidate #1 had previously described Page as an advisor. In addition, on or about September 25, 2016, an identified news organization published an article that was based primarily on an interview with Candidate #1's then campaign manager. During the interview, the campaign manager stated, "[Page is] not part of the campaign I'm running." The campaign manager added that Page has not been part of Candidate #1's national security or foreign policy briefings since he/she became campaign manager. In response to a question from the interviewer regarding reports that Page was meeting with Russian officials to essentially attempt to conduct diplomatic negotiations with the Russian Government, the campaign manager responded, "If [Page is] doing that, he's certainly not doing it with the permission or knowledge of the campaign " Although it appears that Candidate #1's campaign was attempting to publicly distance itself from Page, the FBI assesses, based on the totality of circumstances described herein, that Page was engaged in efforts to influence U.S. foreign policy on behalf of the Russian Government.

(U) (SMMR) On or about September 25, 2016, Page sent a letter to the FBI Director.

Y-OP'SECRETANOFORNATISA

In this letter, Page made reference to the accusations in the September 23rd News more than completely false media reports and that he did not meet with any organization published an article that was based on an interview with Page (September 26th News Article). In the September 26th News Article, Page stated that all of the accusations were complete "garbage" and that he did not meet with Sechin or Divyekin. Page also stated that he was taking a leave of absence from his work with Candidate #1's campaign because the accusations were a "distraction." Similar to the above-noted comments from officials with Candidate #1's campaign, the FBI believes that Page's comments were self-serving and, based on the source reporting described above, untrue. At the time, notwithstanding public comments from officials affiliated with Candidate #1's campaign that distanced the campaign from Page, Page's public denial about the accusations in the September 23rd News Article, and Page's subsequent statement about taking a leave of absence from his work with the campaign, because Page was one of the first identified foreign policy advisors for Candidate #1's campaign, the FBI believes that Page likely established close relationships with other members of Candidate #1's campaign and likely would have continued to have access to members of Candidate #1's campaign, which he could exploit to attempt to exert influence on foreign policy matters, regardless of whatever formal role he played in the campaign.

V. (U) (SXXXX) Page's Additional Interactions with Source #2.

(U) XXXXF) On or about October 17, 2016, Page met with Source #2, which meeting the FBI consensually monitored and recorded. According to the FBI's review of the recorded conversation, Source #2 made general inquiries about the media reporting regarding Page's contacts with Russian officials. Although Page did not provide any specific details to refute, dispel, or clarify the media reporting, he made vague statements that minimized his activities. Page also made general statements about a perceived conspiracy against him mounted by the media. However, notwithstanding these vague and general statements, Page admitted that he has had a "longstanding constructive relationship with the Russians, going back, throughout my life." In addition to this statement, Page made comments that lead the FBI to believe Page continues to be closely tied to Russian officials. Specifically, Page mentioned a foreign policy think tank project (but did not disclose the specifics of the project to Source #2). With respect to funding the project, Page said, "I don't want to say there'd be an open checkbook, but the Russians would definitely [fund it] ... but, that has its pros and cons, right?" The FBI believes this statement reflects Page's belief that he has significant relationships with Russian officials who will provide financial support for this foreign policy project.

(U) (SWAX) During this meeting with Source #2, Page said that he was no longer officially affiliated with Candidate #1's campaign, but added that he may be appearing in a television interview within the next week when he travels to the United Kingdom. According to Page, the interview was to discuss the potential change in U.S. foreign policy as it pertains to Russia and Syria if Candidate #1 won the election. Accordingly, although Page claimed that he was no longer officially affiliated with the campaign, the FBI assesses that Page continued to coordinate with the Russian Government, and perhaps others, in efforts to influence U.S. foreign policy.

(U) (EXAMF) In or about June 2017, the FBI interviewed Klimentov. During this interview, Klimentov revealed that he believed that Page was in Moscow for only two and a half days on the July 2016 trip.²⁵ When asked if he was aware of any meeting between Page and Sechin, Klimentov said that he did not think it was likely that the two met. Notwithstanding Klimentov's statement that he does not think that Page met with Sechin during Page's July 2016 trip to Moscow, the FBI believes, based on the above-described information provided by Sensitive Information that it was rumored that Page met with Sechin, that Page and Sechin likely met prior to the time that Page joined Klimentov at the New Economic School.

(U) (SANN) The FBI also assesses that Klimentov does not know about all of the meetings that Page had when he was in Moscow in July 2016. For example, during the FBI's interview of Klimentov, the FBI asked him if he had any knowledge about a meeting between Page and Arkadiy Dvorkovich, who is the Russian Deputy Prime Minister. Klimentov said that he knew Page attempted to schedule a meeting with the New Economic School board, which would have included Dvorkovich, but the meeting never took place. Klimentov told the FBI that he had no memory of any meeting between Page and Dvorkovich.

As with Dvorkovich's outreach, the FBI assesses that is interested in continuing to develop a relationship with Page in order to use Page as an influence agent for or on behalf of Russia. The FBI also assesses that "future business ventures" may include ventures with Page that the Russian Government could exploit to engage in influence operations against the United States, like the proposed think tank discussed immediately below.

- As discussed above, Page appeared to be interested in (U) establishing a Russian-funded think tank. Page approached Source #2 about being part of this project, and, as mentioned above, told Source #2 that the Russians would be willing to fund it. According to more recent reporting from Source #2, who met with Page shortly after Page's return from Moscow in or about December 2016, Source #2 asked Page for additional information regarding the financials for the proposed think tank. According to Source #2, Page initially attempted to distance the think tank from Russian funding. When Source #2 reminded Page of his previous statement regarding the "open checkbook," Page did not refute his previous comment and provided some reassurance to Source #2 about the likelihood of Russian financial support. The FBI assesses that Page's attempts to downplay Russian funding for the think tank can be attributed to Page likely trying to distance himself from Russia due to media reporting that continues to tie Page to Russia, Page's desire to appear to be separate and independent, or perhaps Page was instructed by Russian officials during his recent meetings with them that he should not discuss any possible Russian financial involvement.

In his letter, Page claims that he has not directly supported a political campaign since September 2016, but continues to be subjected to personal attacks by former members of Candidate #2's campaign based on fictitious information. Page wrote that his academic lecture and related meetings with scholars and business people in Moscow had no connection to the U.S. election. Page attributes the assertions in the September 23rd News Article that Page met with two senior Russian officials (i.e., Sechin and Diveykin) while he was in Moscow in July 2016 to give the commencement address at the New Economic School, which Page claims is "false evidence," to Candidate #2's campaign. Page further claims that the information relied on by Candidate #2's campaign, certain members of the U.S. Congress, and the media are lies that were completely fabricated by Candidate #2's paid consultants and private investigators.

Notwithstanding Page's assertions that the claims against him are false, baseless, and completely fabricated, based on information developed by the FBI through its ongoing investigation of Page that is described herein, the FBI believes that Page's claims in this letter are self-serving and untrue.

- (U) H. (SANK) The FBI's Interviews of Page.
- (U) (SAMR) In or about March 2017, the FBI met with Page for a series of interviews. At the start of these interviews, Page provided the FBI with a written outline of the facts and events he believed to be pertinent to the FBI's investigation.

For example, one of the topics Page covered with his prepared comments was his previous experience with Evgeny Buryakov, Igor Sporyshev, and Victor Podobnyy [these individuals are discussed above on pgs. 15-17]. In a reference to the Buryakov complaint, Page stated that "nobody knows that I'm Male-1 in this report," and also added that he never told anyone about this. As discussed above however, during a March 2016 interview with the FBI regarding his relationship with Podobnyy, Page told the FBI that he informed a group of Russian officials that he (Page) was "Male-1" in the Buryakov complaint. Thus, during the March 2017 interview, the FBI specifically asked Page if he told any colleague that he (Page) was "Male-1." In response, Page stated that there was a conversation with a Russian Government official at the United Nations General Assembly. The FBI again asked Page if he had told anyone that he was "Male-1." Page responded that he "forgot the exact statement."

(U) (SANTE) Additionally, the FBI questioned Page about his previous relationship with Aleksandr Bulatov. [As discussed above, Bulatov is believed to be Sensitive Information; during a June 2009 interview with the FBI, Page stated that he formed a professional relationship with Bulatov in or around 2007-2008.]

Initially, Page claimed to not recall the name, but after further FBI questioning and looking in his phone contact list, Page claimed that he and Bulatov may have had lunch in New York.

- Page could be viewed as having a source-handler or co-optee relationship with the Russian intelligence officers, Page claimed that he believed that he was "on the books," but that he only provided the Russian intelligence officers with "immaterial non-public" information. Page further explained, "the more immaterial non-public information I give them, the better for this country." In the context of this part of the interview, during which the FBI was specifically discussing intelligence officers and their patterns of recruitment, the FBI assesses that Page was referring to the when he said that he was "on the books." Although the FBI asked Page to explain any current contact he had with any possible Russian intelligence officers, Page would only discuss the time frame 2008 to 2013.
- (U) (S/NCF) Also during the interviews, Page denied ever meeting with Sechin or Divyekin, but, as discussed above, admitted to meeting with Russian Deputy Prime Minister Arkadiy Dvorkovich. The FBI assesses Page made this disclosure because it was publicly known that Dvorkovich was at the July 2016 graduation and that the two would have likely interacted at that time. Also, because Dvorkovich is the Russian Deputy Prime Minister, the FBI assesses that Page, by making this admission, believed he could explain the media claims that Page met with Russian officials in July 2016.

(U) (SXXXX) With respect to Page's associations with Russian officials, the FBI believes that Page's strategy during these interviews was to initially deny an inculpatory allegation regarding such associations until Page could determine the extent of the FBI's knowledge. If the FBI appeared to know more about the allegation, the FBI believes that Page would then make a partial admission but also downplay its importance.

(U)	(SMNK	For example, Pag	ge downplayed	l his interaction	ns with

(U) (EANK) Page's strategy of initially denying an inculpatory allegation regarding his associations and then making a partial admission also appears to be Page's approach to interviews he has conducted with the news media. For example, in or about February 2017, Page was interviewed by a national news organization and was asked specifically if he had any meetings last year with Russian officials in Russia or elsewhere. Page replied that he had no meetings but may have greeted a few people as they walked by him at the graduation [in context, a reference to the commencement ceremony at the New Economic School]. Then, in or about March 2017, Page was interviewed by a different national news organization and was directly asked if he had met with the Russian Ambassador to the United States in July 2016 during a political function held in Cleveland, OH. Initially, Page said he would not comment on meetings that took place there due to confidentiality rules. The interviewer continued to press this line of questions, and Page eventually admitted that he talked "off-the-record" with the Russian Ambassador.

TOP SECRETION OF ORNATIOSAX

- (U) (SANSE) During these March 2017 interviews, the FBI also questioned Page about the above-referenced reports from August 2016 that Candidate #1's campaign worked to make sure Political Party #1's platform would not call for giving weapons to Ukraine to fight Russian and rebel forces [this matter is discussed above on pgs. 25-26]. According to Page, he had no part in the campaign's decision. Page stated that an identified individual (who previously served as manager of Candidate #1's campaign) more likely than not recommended the "pro-Russian" changes. As the FBI believes that Page also holds pro-Russian views and appears to still have been a member of Candidate #1's campaign in August 2016, the FBI assesses that Page may have been downplaying his role in advocating for the change to Political Party #1's platform.
- (U) (SMNR) Finally, during these interviews, the FBI questioned Page about his removal from Candidate #1's campaign. According to Page, on or about September 24, 2016, Page was told by an identified member of Candidate #1's campaign that that Page has received in relation to the FBI's investigation into allegations of Russian Government interference into the 2016 U.S. Presidential election as well as multiple media reports from in or about April 2017 that the FBI obtained a FISA warrant to surveil Page. Additionally, based on Page's history of willingness to assist Russian IOs, which as discussed above the FBI believes began as early as 2007 (see page 14), and his comment to the FBI that he believes he is "on the books," the FBI believes that Page remains favorable to future RIS taskings.

XEOR SECRETANORORNAFISA

(U) (SAND) The FBI also notes that Page continues to be active in meeting with media outlets to promote his theories of how U.S. foreign policy should be adjusted with regard to Russia and also to refute claims of his involvement with Russian Government efforts to influence the 2016 U.S. Presidential election.
Sensitive Information
The FBI believes this approach is important because, from the Russian Government's point-of-view, it continues to keep the controversy of the election in the front of the American and world media, which has the effect of undermining the integrity of the U.S. electoral process and weakening the effectiveness of the current U.S. Administration. The FBI believes Page also may be seeking media attention in order to maintain momentum for potential book contracts.

VIII. (U) Conclusion.

(U) (SXNX) As discussed above, the FBI believes that Page has been collaborating and conspiring with the Russian Government, to include elements of the RIS, to influence public opinion and affect the course of the U.S. Government. Based on the foregoing facts and circumstances, the FBI submits that there is probable cause to believe that Page knowingly aids or abets other persons, who, pursuant to the

Based upon its investigations of this foreign power and its agents, the FBI believes that this target maintains information, material, and/or property related to such activities secreted in the premises or property specified herein. Thus, the FBI expects that foreign intelligence information, such as that described herein, will be contained in the premises or property to be searched.

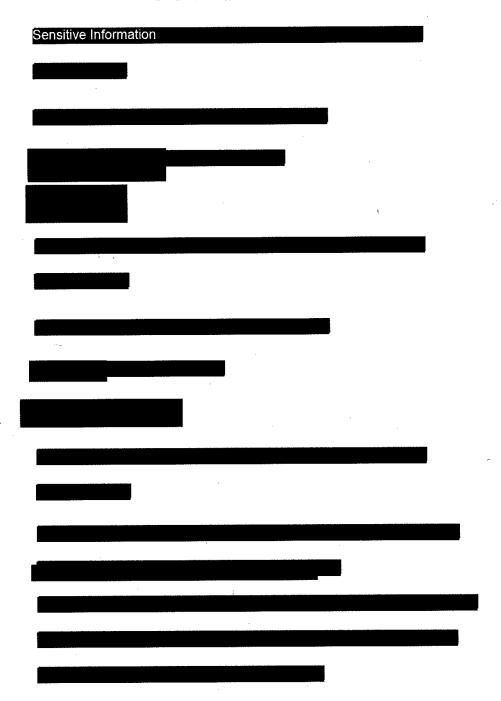

[50 U.S.C. §§ 1804(a)(3)(B) and 1823(a)(3)(C)] (U) c. (8) The facilities or places at which electronic surveillance will be directed, and the premises or property to be searched.

(U(8) Nature of the Information Sought Through the authorities requested herein, the United States is seeking foreign intelligence information with respect to the activities of the target described above and detailed further in the certification set forth below. As indicated by the facts set forth herein, the FBI is seeking foreign intelligence information that relates and is necessary to the ability of the United States to protect against clandestine intelligence activities by an intelligence service or network of this foreign power or by agents of this foreign power, and information with respect to a foreign power or foreign territory that relates and is necessary to the national defense, security, and the conduct of the foreign affairs of the United States. These same authorities may also incidentally acquire other foreign intelligence information, as defined by the Act.

[50 U.S.C. §§ 1804(a)(6)(A)-(E) and 1823(a)(6)(A)-(E)] 6. (U) S Certification The certification of the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs or an Executive branch official duly designated by the President as a certifying official in Executive Order Numbers 12139 (electronic surveillance) and 12949 (physical search), as amended, is set forth below.

(U) The Purpose of the Authorities Requested

(U) (X) The FBI's foreign intelligence goals for this investigation are set forth in the certification of the Executive Branch official contained herein. However, the authorities requested in this application may produce information and material which might, when evaluated by prosecutive authorities, constitute evidence of a violation of United States law, and this investigation may result in an eventual criminal prosecution of the target. Nevertheless, as discussed in the certification, at least a significant purpose of this request for electronic surveillance and physical search is to collect foreign intelligence information as part of the FBI's investigation of this target.

[50 U.S.C. sitive Information

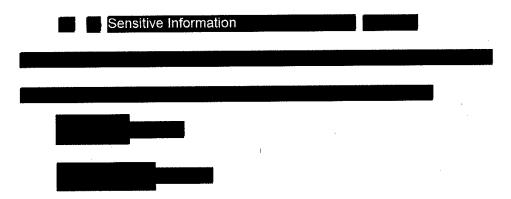

[50 U.S.C. §§ 1804(a)(8) and 1823(a)(8)] 8.(U)(8) Facts Concerning Previous Applications Previous applications made to and approved by this Court for authorities under the Act regarding the target, facilities, places, premises or property targeted herein, are as follows:

three combined applications for electronic surveillance and physical search. The most recent application was filed in docket number 2017-0375.

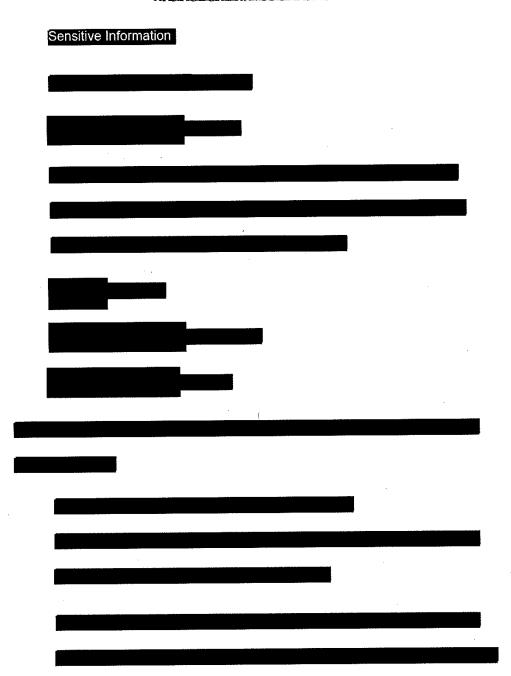

(50 U.S.C. § 1824(d)) [50 U.S.C. § 1804(a)(9)] 9.(UX) Duration of the Authorities Requested (See also, 50 U.S.C. § 1824(d))

The authorities requested should not automatically terminate when foreign intelligence information has first been obtained. Additional information of the same type will be obtained on a continuous basis throughout the entire period requested. The activities which the United States must identify and monitor are incremental and continuous, and communications relating to such activities are often disguised to appear innocuous. The type of foreign intelligence information being sought and the fact that the activities of this target are ongoing preclude the conclusion that, at a given time, all such information has been obtained and collection can be ended.

Accordingly, the United States requests the authorities specified herein for a period of ninety (90) days.

(U) CERTIFICATION

(U) (3) I, the undersigned, having been designated as one of the officials authorized to make the certifications required by the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act of 1978, as amended, do hereby certify with regard to the electronic surveillance and physical search requested in this verified application targeting Carter W. Page, an agent of the Government of Russia, a foreign power, as follows:

[50 U.S.C. §§ 1804(a)(6)(A) and 1823(a)(6)(A)] (A) (U) The information sought through the authorities requested herein is foreign intelligence information.

[50 U.S.C. §§ 1804(a)(6)(B) and 1823(a)(6)(B)] (B) (U) At least a significant purpose of the authorities requested herein is to obtain foreign intelligence information and, notwithstanding the related criminal matters described in this application, the primary purpose of the authorities requested herein is not to obtain information for the prosecution of crimes other than those referred to in the Act, 50 U.S.C. § 1801(a)-(e), or related to such foreign intelligence crimes.

[50 U.S.C. §§ 1804(a)(6)(C) and 1823(a)(6)(C)]

(C) (U) The foreign intelligence information sought by the authorities requested herein cannot be reasonably obtained by normal investigative techniques.

[50 U.S.C. §§ 1804(a)(6)(D) and 1823(a)(6)(D)] (U) (D) (S) The type of foreign intelligence information being sought through the authorities requested herein is that described in 50 U.S.C. § 1801(e)(1)(C), i.e., information that relates and is necessary to the ability of the United States to protect against clandestine intelligence activities by an intelligence service or network of this foreign power or by agents of this foreign power, and 50 U.S.C. § 1801(e)(2)(A)-(B), i.e., information with respect to a foreign power or foreign territory that relates and is necessary to the national defense or security, and the conduct of the foreign affairs of the United States. These same authorities may also incidentally acquire foreign intelligence information as defined by other subsections of 50 U.S.C. § 1801(e).

[50 U.S.C. §§ 1804(a)(6)(E) and 1823(a)(6)(E)]

- (U) (E) (S) The basis for my certification that the information sought is the type of foreign intelligence information specified herein and that such information cannot be obtained by normal investigative techniques is as follows.
- (U) (S) Foreign Intelligence Information The foreign intelligence information sought through the authorities requested herein is the type specified herein because it may, among other things, enable the U.S. Government to:
